

President's Report

Hello Woodies

Second Annual Interclub Woodcrafting Competition

The Club had an extremely successful event showcasing the annual competition against Murwillumbah wood crafters. Those members who put their names forward to assist Ian Thomson and myself were responsible for the five day event that will be very hard to top.

Friday's wine and cheese night proved very popular and the catering was superb. Saturday's lunch was enjoyed by all who were able to attend.

Our visiting judges took a great deal of time to evaluate each item and provided feedback to all competitors ,a vey long day for those doing the paperwork.

Unfortunately our club missed out by half a point in securing the overall competition winner, but the increase in quality of items on show lifted to another level compared to last year's event.

Congratulations to all who entered items for the show ,and our sincere thanks to our band of volunteers who made the event such a great success.

Airing the Quilts

This coming weekend Crawford House is hosting the "Airing of the Quilts" and our Club will have a sales table on Friday through until Sunday.

Annual General Meeting Nominations

The AGM will take place on Sunday 15th July ,everyone wishing to nominate please do so and have the form into the Club by the end of this week.

Rocking Horse Building Course

Bernie Mackney is offering to run a course in building a rocking horse for woodcrafters. Anyone wishing to take up his generous offer please contact him on 66217739 for any additional details.

We Care

Graham Colefax and John Dowling are undergoing surgery this week at St. Vincent's Hospital, and we wish them a speedy recovery.

Woodcrafting Display Boards

The pegboard incident needs to have a permanent solution. Could we construct units that could be used to show items that need to be hung up at other venues? The committee would like input from members please.

Annual Subscriptions now Overdue

It happens every year, but some of us had not renewed our membership by June 30. Please bring to mind the many good reasons why you need the Club and bring your membership up-to-date quickly. The Club needs you.

Enjoy your woodworking,

Peter

The Event of the Year

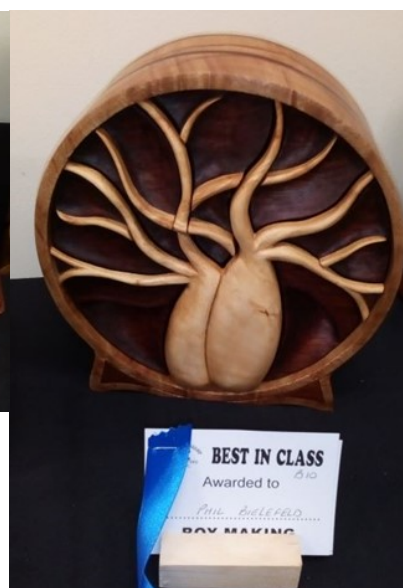

SECOND ANNUAL INTERCLUB WOODCRAFT COMPETITION AND EXHIBITION 2018

Interclub Competition Coordinator, Past President Ian Thomson, is preparing a report on the Competition which will be circulated to all Woodcrafters. The Competition was judged last Friday 29th of June.

A matter of interest to all Woodcrafters is that the highest score of the competition, 46.5 points, was awarded to Jim Lyttle, a very talented craftsman from Murwillumbah Woodcrafters. The runner up, with 46 points, was our very own Ian Thomson's clock.

With apologies to all the excellent works that are not mentioned, here are three other highlights

Muriel Harris' Dragon;
A box by Ian Pickford;
A 9-drawer Boab box by Phillip Bielefeld

Thought and Discussion

An indication of the totality of Ian Thomson's clock.

HELP PRESERVE OUR HISTORY

Your editor had hoped to include photographs of more items but his photographic skills were not up to their merits.

It would contribute to a fitting record of the event if everyone who took a photograph, even of their own work, could send a copy to the Club. If you have many photographs, your memory stick will be returned to you. Please use randm2047@gmail.com and your contribution will be acknowledged.
